

EXERCISE 4.1

Questions for constructing and selecting

As you look at your organization or the section in which you work, consider the following.

1. What questions arise out of your experience which you would like to search for answers?
2. What might be the answers to these questions?
3. What do you think might be the underlying causes of the situation why you have these questions?
4. What alternative answers might exist?
5. Where do you fit into the situation as defined by the question?
6. What would other members of the organization think of you working on this issue?
7. What support will you have?
8. What opposition will you encounter?
9. Where are the sensitive issues?
10. What are the constraints?
11. Who needs to be involved? Whose support do you enlist?
12. Where would be a good place to begin?
13. How will you engage in uncovering the data?
